AND Because We Love Our Readers – BONUS STORY INSIDE!!!

Lost love regained in a rural Nebraska town. A rancher (Aiden) and Jessica were high school sweethearts but when her parents divorced she moved to California with her mom. She comes back later to attend her dad's funeral, as he died unexpectedly. Jessica only intends to stay for a week to close up his affairs but she ends up falling in love with the house and town all over again, not to mention with Aiden. But Jess is engaged to another man. Is she ready to give up her entire life in California to return to her childhood home?

This is a sweet romance about love lost and regained. It's a little spicy too. It should be heartwarming, full of rural charm and good-hearted people. Detail the beauty of the Nebraska plains and the simple life. This story is about coming home again and remembering who you really are and the people who make your life complete. It's about a simpler life of community, nature and family. This story is also about loss. Both Jessica and Aiden have both lost people close to them and they're learning to deal with their grief while trying to figure out who they are and what they want from life. This common goal binds them together.
