The Transformation of Global Health Governance: Competing Ideas, Interests and Institutions by Colin McInnes, Kelley Lee, Adam Kamradt-Scott, Anne Roemer-Mahler, Simon Rushton, Owain David Williams ISBN 1137365714

The authors examine how health governance is being transformed amid globalization, characterized by the emergence of new actors and institutions, and the interplay of competing ideas about global health. They explore how this has affected the governance of specific health issues, such as HIV/AIDS, pandemic influenza, tobacco control and access to medicines, and how it relates to global governance more broadly. Adopting a multi-layer perspective on global health governance, the authors suggest how global health governance might move forward more effectively.
